Dear Parents and Carers,

Children in Need

It was great to see the children and staff dressed up in their Pugsy sportswear today. The money raised from this non-uniform event will go straight to the 'Children in Need' appeal and be used to support vulnerable children and families across the UK and abroad. Thank you for your support in raising money for this worthy cause.

KS1 Dance Workshop

On Monday of this week we welcomed Rachel from Premier Education to lead a KS1 dance workshop. Yr1 and Yr2 children all enjoyed a day of dance. The workshops related to their theme for this term, with yr1 learning a toy soldier dance to the sound of the Nutcracker and yr2 learning an animal themed dance from the Lion King musical. The children had an enjoyable time and it was good to build links with a new creative provider in Thurrock.

Dogs on school grounds

There have been a few incidents of parents carrying small dogs onto the site when dropping or picking up their children. We do not allow dogs on site and politely request that this does not occur. Thank you for your support and understanding.

Pre-loved Uniform Shop

We were delighted to be able to launch our 'Pre-loved Uniform shop' this week and welcome parents and carers to purchase and donate towards this worthy cause. As a school we want to thank Candice Johnson (parent and local resident) for the hard work she has put in, together with Mrs Allen, to source, clean and present the uniform and shop ready for launch. We are also grateful for a donation from a well-known retailer which, in relation to the uniform shop, was used to fix the roof of the shop container. Any funds raised from the shop go directly back into the enterprise and its running costs, with the main aim being to support the parent community. For any information about the uniform shop please contact Mrs Allen.

We wish you a relaxing weekend ahead,

The Leadership Team

Classroom catch up

Reception

This week in Reception we have been reading the story of 'Mrs Armitage on Wheels' by Quentin Blake. We have been designing our own bikes just like Mrs Armitage and adding all of the things we might need such as, a snack, a comfy seat, an umbrella and even a place to wash our hands! We have carried on practising hearing and writing the initial sounds in words and have started to write other sounds in the words we can hear too!

In Maths this week, we have been looking at repeating patterns. We have been trying to create a circular ABBC pattern and have been noticing when we have made a mistake. We have enjoyed creating repeating patterns in lots of different ways using different materials.

Today for Children in Need we have been discussing where the money goes that we have raised and why we have raised it. We have been creating our own Pudsey Bear pictures using cotton buds and paint.

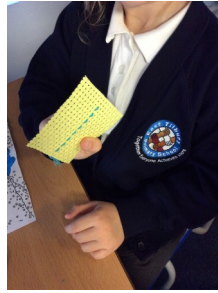

Year 1

This week, Year 1 were visited by a professional dancer from Premier Education. As the children's focus this term is around 'toys', they first began warming up their bodies by creating the movements different toys make. They then put together a dance routine to the music 'The Nutcracker'. The children had so much fun, and their dance routines looked amazing!

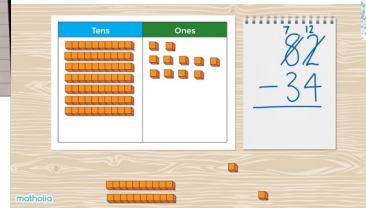

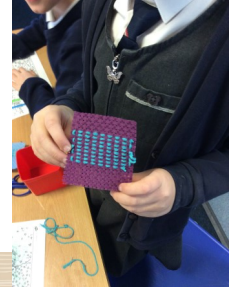

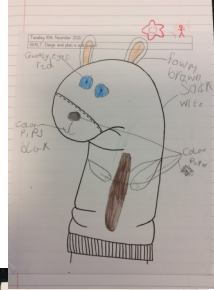

Year 2

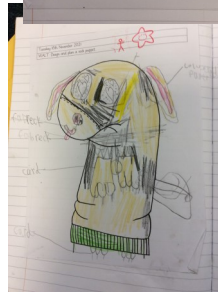

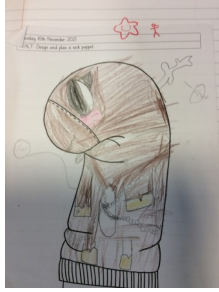

In DT, we have designed what our sock puppets are going to look like. We labelled the materials we were going to use. Next week we will be making our puppets. We are very excited. If you

In Art, we have been learning how to sew. We focused on two types of stitches; the running stitch and over stitch. We learnt how to thread the needle and move the needle in and out of the material. Next week we

In Math, we have been adding and subtracting 2 two digit numbers. We used base ten and the

Year 3

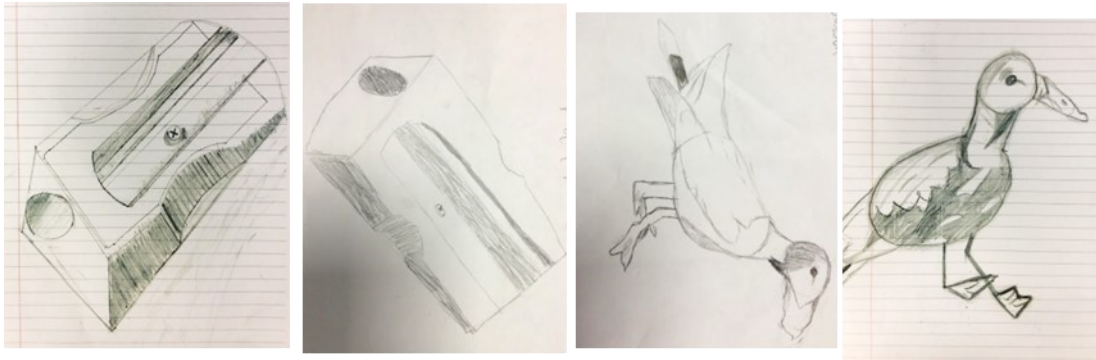

Year 3 have been busy today completing some different activities for Children in Need.

Year 4

This week, in year 4 we have immersed ourselves into the mystery of the missing Malteasers! Pupils have been extremely engaged in their writing to investigate who has taken Mr Powell's box of Malteasers through interviews with staff and even writing persuasive letters to SLT. The children are yet to determine who the culprit is...

In Art, we have been focusing on sketching techniques and the children have pushed themselves further in their skills to produce some amazing pieces of work of either a sharpener or a seagull. It was lovely to see the aspiring artists within the year group!

Year 5 PE – Netball skills.

In year 5 we have been honing in on our ball skills, teamwork, pivoting and shooting in netball. We have been showing excellent techniques and teamwork, a special mention needs to go to J-J and MB from 5BG, and Ah and JF in 5TH.

During history this week, we have been continuing researching the Vikings. We explored a range of settlements and established which settlements we raided, took over or burnt down using evidence to support our reasoning. To complete the task, we used a range of cross-curricular skills

In science this week, we explored reversible and irreversible changes involving eggs and salt. We conducted mini experiments showing the effects of mixing, dissolving and evaporating

Year 6

This week, in our British Values lesson, we were discussing obedience and whether we should always follow orders. We decided that you should follow orders given at home and in school and orders given to us by the police and other authority figures.

However, we also decided that if we are given an order which would endanger our safety or put us at risk, it is ok to disobey an order.

We then moved on to discussing the necessity of being obedient and following orders if you are in the military. This connected really well with the work we have been doing learning about the persecution of Jews leading-up to and during WWII. We read a true story about a mechanic in the RAF refusing to follow an order and the consequences of his actions.

Pupils then joined the defense or prosecution for the court martial.

I am defending the Chief Technician and here is my reason why. When the Chief Technician said to the Wing Commander that the plane had something wrong with the engine, the Wing Commander overruled the Chief Technician and told him to get on the plane with him and some other men. The Chief Technician said no and defied the Wing Commander. The Wing Commander made the plane take off anyway and it started going faulty in the air, luckily enough the plane landed without anyone getting hurt. Later on the Chief Technician was fired which I think was very wrong because the Chief Technician was trying to save the Wing Commanders and the other peoples lives. He shouldn't have been fired even though he was disobeying the orders of someone with a rank higher than his because he was trying to keep people safe. Also if the mission was that urgent then they could've used a different plane that was already working and ready.

He disobeyed a direct order from a superior officer then continued to try and humiliate him in front of his fellow soldiers by trying to say he was in the wrong. He has made a huge issue in our system and has held us up in our attacks. The German soldiers had a chance of killing them either way, whether the plane was broken or not. It was an order not a question and he has also been selfish as to not help in the line of duty. He is not in charge therefore he shouldn't have practically ignored his superior officer.

It is wrong to not obey an officer of a higher rank . This is because no matter the cost you are getting paid to work. Also because if you are in the navy, the air force or a soldier, it is a rule to listen to whatever your officer or leader says.

The technician said that the engine was wrong which was true but no one was injured or nobody died so this is why the air force was right to sack him and not let him work there again.

10 Ways You Can SHARE KINDNESS ONLINE

Last year, around one in five young people aged 10-15 in England and Wales admitted experiencing online bullying: most commonly being insulted or sworn at, or having hurtful messages sent about them. To someone who's being bullied, the world can seem like a bleak, negative place – but just one kind word can be a ray of hope: a turning point that brightens their day and refreshes their perspective. That's why 'One Kind Word' is the theme of Anti-Bullying Week 2021. We're supporting this year's event by bringing you ten top tips for beating online bullying by replacing it with kindness.

1 PRAISE WHERE IT'S DUE

Sometimes a friend or relative might post online about something they're proud to have achieved: maybe an exam they've passed, a new skill they've learned or a task they've completed. Celebrate their hard work and determination by being kind enough to praise them for it publicly.

2 REACH OUT

It's not always easy to tell what kind of mood someone is in just from what they post online. Simply dropping somebody a message to say 'hi', to ask if they're OK or to tell them that you're thinking of them could totally make their day.

3 RECOMMEND FUN THINGS

If there's something you enjoy doing online – perhaps you play a particular game, or you've found a really cool site – share it with someone you think will enjoy it. Even recommending a film or TV show you think they'll like can bring a little happiness to someone who really needs it.

4 OFFER TO HELP

Sometimes you might see a friend or family member posting a question online or asking for help with something they can't do themselves. Don't just ignore it – if you can help, get in touch. Something that's difficult for them might be no trouble for you!

5 POST POSITIVELY

Lots of people seem to go online purely to complain about things or be negative. Just because you're communicating online (and not face to face) doesn't mean you can't be positive, though! Post about things that make you happy and that you're thankful for. It could brighten someone else's day.

6 SHOW YOUR APPRECIATION

If somebody that you know has done something positive or shown kindness themselves, go online and thank them with a message or a post. Expressing your gratitude costs nothing and showing someone that you appreciate them will really make them feel good.

7 BE UNDERSTANDING

Showing empathy towards others is an act of online kindness which often gets overlooked. If you notice that someone you know is upset, drop them a message. Sometimes people just need someone else to listen to them and understand their situation.

8 SHARE INSPIRATIONAL POSTS

When you see something online that inspires you or makes you feel happy, share it with people you know. A spot-on quotation, a beautiful photo or an uplifting video can lift someone's spirits and help them to feel better about life.

9 THINK BEFORE COMMENTING

Thinking before we act can be just as important as acting in the first place. Taking a second to consider what you're saying in advance could stop you from posting something negative, hurtful or offensive – even if you don't mean to. It's better to post positively or not post at all.

10 LIKE, LOVE AND ENGAGE

If somebody posts something that you like on social media, don't just scroll past – take the time to like it, love it or leave an appreciative comment! Reacting positively to other people's posts might seem like a small gesture but could mean a lot to them.

The JRSO's will work with Mr. Bennett to promote active and safer travel to and from school. Their first project will be "Be Seen" in the second half of the Autumn term. The JRSO's are pictured wearing their new JRSO badges.

Clubs

It is wonderful to see so many children participating in after-school sports clubs. Many clubs will give the children the opportunity to play in local school leagues. We have A and B teams entered in both Football and Netball leagues for the Autumn and Spring terms.

PE Kit

Half term is coming, and many children will have had growth spurts this half term. Can parents/carers please take this opportunity to check that PE kit still fits and replace it if necessary. Children will need to bring their PE kit back in the first day back after half term.

OPAL Outdoor Play and Learning Launch 2021

Outdoor Play and Learning (OPAL)

We are about to launch an exciting new project to make our playtimes even better in conjunction with OPAL (outdoor play and learning.org). OPAL has won the Best Active Schools Programme in Europe Award and has been cited in 2 Parliamentary Reports as outstanding practice. OPAL is working closely with Sport England to promote more active childhoods.

All children have had an assembly with Mrs. Smith and Mr. Bennett to introduce them to the project and to all the exciting things we hope to offer them to play with.

To support us we would kindly accept donations of small world toys; these include dolls, dinosaurs, action figures, cars, Lego or building toys. If you are having a clear out of toy boxes over half term, then please consider us as a place to donate the items listed. Donations can be given to the class teacher who will pass them on.

Thank you for your continued support.
